

Tetrastemma sp A

This animal is a “known entity”, but this sheet is meant as a quick reference. The stylet is very distinctive in having a flared base and being surrounded by a ring-type structure. It is very different from the classic “pear-shaped” stylet seen in Tetrastemma candidum, for instance.

M. Lilly - 8/2006

